

SPRING NEWSLETTER

APRIL – JUNE 2025

POLICE DEPARTMENT

With spring comes new life. We'd like to take this time to remind you that if you see young wildlife, do NOT feed, do NOT approach, and do NOT harass, or hold and pose for pictures with it. Young animals are often left alone for long periods of time; this does not mean they are abandoned. If it looks healthy, the mother is caring for it and it should be left alone.

If you have a concern that the wild animal is sick or starving, contact Colorado Parks and Wildlife.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

The annual audit for 2024 is in process. Once completed, the auditor will present to the Board for acceptance. The Annual Comprehensive Financial Report will be posted to the website in May.

Male Greater Sage-grouse strutting. Males can hold up to a gallon of air in the yellow air sacs on their chest as part of their mating display.

These are a non-migratory species that survive winters by eating sagebrush leaves. This conservation easement is part of the remaining habitat for the only known sage-grouse lek on the east side of Middle Park.

TALK WITH TED

The Town of Granby is putting a focus on our outdoor assets this year. We hired Norris Design to help us update the Parks Master Plan, complete a feasibility study for a recreation center, and design trails for the Granby Highlands conservation area west of Highway 34. Upcoming opportunities for public input on these projects will be announced as they become available.

Join us on Saturday, May 31st from 10:00-noon to check out Granby Highlands. This is town-owned land that was recently put into a 743 acre conservation easement. It is the same property where Norris Design will plan 10 miles of non-motorized trails while also protecting areas dedicated solely habitat. We'd like to invite you to see the property in its current state, share your input on their projects, and be entered into a prize drawing! Watch for event details at Facebook.com/granbyco.

Construction on Phase 1 of Nuche Village is on schedule to continue this spring. Sign up for email alerts and newsletters regarding local housing at <https://tinyurl.com/Nuche-Newsletter>.
